1949

MR. GEORGE WILSON

Vera^g Call

The Class of 1949 can feel justly proud of its record during the last three years. The utilization of acquired knowledge and skills, the participation in worthy activities, and the fulfillment of desired aspirations are among the expected outcomes of education. I recommend that you adopt this slogan, "Never stop learning."

The faculty joins me in wishing you continued success in the years to come.

A Foreword

One hundred years is a long time, but the qualities of men and women who are ever surmounting obstacles remain the same. In the year 1849 thousands of Americans went forth across this continent with outstanding fortitude, courage, and foresightedness. This year the ideals of nearly five hundred Americans from Quincy High School alone will spread throughout the world. The characteristics that were so indicative of the old forty-niners recur in these modern forty-niners.

“TOP TEN”

Based upon a compilation of two and one-half years' high school work, the "top ten" pupils with the highest scholastic averages are revealed to the public annually. The highest ranking students from the nearly five hundred seniors are, in order of their standing, IRENE LAGODIMOS, MARJORIE MacALLISTER, ROBERT LOFGREN, JOAN FRETHEIM, MARY KILBOURNE, BARBARA FAULKNER, NANCY KILBOURNE, RUTH PORTEUS, BARBARA WATTS, and HELEN RICHARDS.

Activities

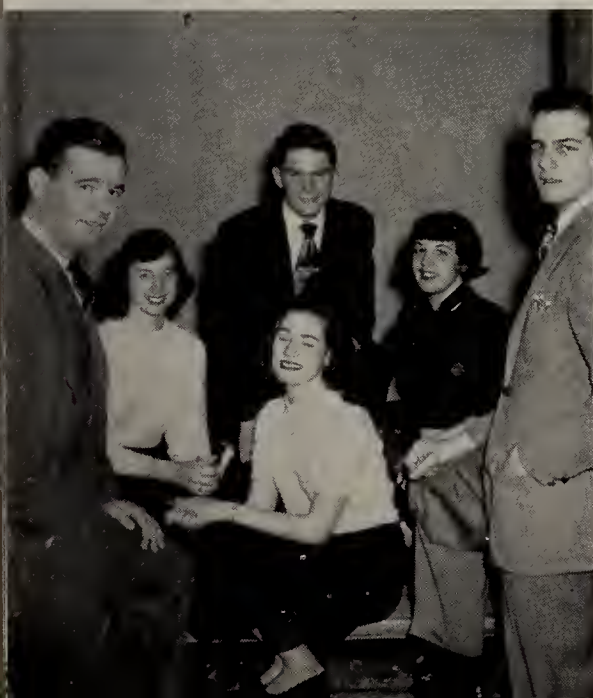

STUDENT COUNCIL

The aim of the student government group is to improve the school in any way possible. It is composed of six seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and one trade department delegate. The officers for the year were Thomas Kirkbride, president; Martha Casta, vice-president; Mary Volpe, secretary; and James Larkin, treasurer. The Council, which met weekly, planned and successfully conducted a television drive.

ORCHESTRA

Although too few people ever hear of the Orchestra and its activities, it is doing as fine a job as Quincy High's other musical organizations. The group provided the instrumental music for the dedication of the new Squantum School wing and auditorium.

TRAFFIC

The rush is on! But not for gold. It's for either food or the next class. The scramble seems to have been even more dangerous than usual this year, but the Traffic Squad has kept the onrush well in hand. The captains are Cynthia Terry, Nancy Kilbourne, and Harry Shorey.

SPANISH CLUB

Twice a month a selected few whisper the password and slide into Room 212 for a Spanish Club meeting with Señorita Patriquin. Activities have included speakers, a Christmas party, the Mardi Gras Costume Ball, the Pan-American Week Celebration, and a spring picnic. The officers are Carmine Pizzi, president; Roberta Mitchell, vice-president; Cynthia Terry, secretary; and Carl Dangerfield, treasurer.

CHAPEL CHOIR

Much credit is given the Chapel Choir for adding to the Wednesday and Friday assemblies a note of excellence. The group has performed at the Squantum dedication and at the Montclair, Coddington, and Atherton Hough Parent-Teachers' Associations.

GLEE CLUB

Under the direction of Miss Tuthill and Mr. Nelson, the Glee Club gave a beautiful Christmas concert, which was broadcast to parents and friends over WJDA. The club also took part in the State Festival.

PRESS CLUB

"What gives?" To get the latest news about the activities in which the students of Quincy High participate, read the Press Club's weekly column in the Quincy Patriot Ledger. Under the direction of Miss Goudey and Mr. Russell, the club members put their knowledge of newswriting to good use.

PAGE AND STAGE

Quincy has gone dramatic with the Page and Stage Club, which presented "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden," with Miss Poland as the sponsor. The officers are Roger Carling, president; Eloise Johnson, vice-president; Norma Ferosi, secretary; William Chamberlain, treasurer.

RADIO CLUB

"Quiet! We're on the air!" That should be the motto for the Radio Club, for, in the past year, the club has accomplished a great deal, under the direction of Mrs. Myatt. The greatest success was the Christmas play, "The Birth of the Song, 'Silent Night.'" The officers are Frank Drago, president; Peter Benelli, vice-president; Ann Fitzgerald, secretary; Cynthia Terry, treasurer.

TRI-HI-Y

Able led by Martha Casta as president, the Tri-Hi-Y has sponsored not only joint record hops with the Hi-Y but also a "Night Club Night." Other officers include Beverley Chappell, vice-president; Joan Andre, secretary; and Betty Hopkins, treasurer.

THE MAJORETTES

"BOOM, BOOM, BOOM! BOOM, BOOM, BOOM!!!"
Here come the high-stepping majorettes, headed by Joanne Frazier, with her co-heads, Marie Qualey, Virginia DiSalvio, and Eva Dintino. These fourteen girls in white, marching briskly down the field with their batons flashing brightly in the sun, indeed added to the thrill of the football games.

DRILL TEAM

"March down the field to the music" is exactly what these twenty-six smart-looking girls, headed by Beverley Chappell, did to add to the excitement and pleasure of the Q. H. S. football games on crisp autumn afternoons. When things looked blackest, the girls in their colorful uniforms brought out the enthusiasm and school spirit of the crowd.

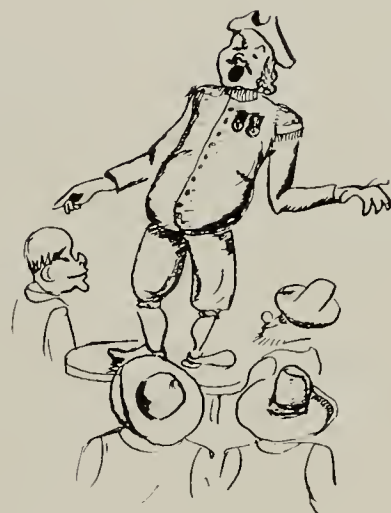

"BLUE AND WHITE"

Acting upon the inspiration of Richard Cuff, a group of Q. H. S. students recently organized the "Blue and White" Publishing Company for the purpose of putting into circulation a school newspaper, "The Pony Express." The project is backed by the Lincoln Stores, Inc. and is a member of the Junior Achievement. This nation-wide organization, founded by a group of enterprising businessmen, teaches students experience in business through their own enterprises. William Chamberlain is the editor-in-chief of "The Pony Express."

HOME ROOM REPRESENTATIVES

The "gold-diggers" of Quincy High! At least they were always asking for money or clothes — but always for a good cause. Under the guidance of the Student Council and the chairman, Martha Casta, the Home Room Representatives acted as agents for the Clothing for Children Federation, the Community Drive, and the television-set drive.

GIRLS' CLUB BOARD

Here's how the Girls' Club activities found reality — through the inspirations of President Claire Bjornholm, Vice-President Shirley Ewel, Treasurer Carole Starr, and Secretary Barbara Donahue. They were assisted by the board members: Ruth Anderson, Music; Barbara Ceriani, Community Service; Patricia Ford, Art; Joan Fretheim, School Service; Loretta Minnar, Remembrance; Jean Zimmerman, Hospitality; and Irma Weiner, Sports. To make 1949 a successful year were faculty advisors, Miss Wheeler and Miss Johnson.

FRENCH CLUB

Parlez-vous français? Oui? Want an answer? Go to Room 300, where the French Club meets monthly with Miss McCarthy and Miss Iaconis. There's not a dull moment. The club sponsored the "Harvest Hop", assisted by the Spanish Club; a Christmas party, "Profil de la France"; a March assembly; and a May party. Robert Keefe, president; Helen Richards, vice-president; Jean Moran, secretary; and Jordan Goldberg, treasurer, served as officers.

JUNIOR RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVES

There is a Junior Red Cross representative and an alternate from each sophomore, junior, and senior homeroom. During the school year, besides covering certain events like the membership drive and Christmas Gift Boxes for needy children overseas, they stood by to help out whenever there was actual need of Junior Red Cross services in the school.

CREATIVE WRITING

A wealth of literary loot was dug up by these able prose writers and poets. Under the guidance of Miss Crockett, the 1949 Creative Writing Club turned in many minor masterpieces, a few of which were published. Officers were Fred Shea, president; Jeanette Goudreau, vice-president; Holly Burgess, secretary; Audrey M. Palmer, treasurer; Ralph Colby, program chairman; and John Delahunt, social chairman.

WINTER SPORTS CLUB

"Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow!" These were the words uttered by the members throughout the past year in the hope for a few days of skiing. The club, aided greatly by the officers — Richard Cuff, president; Thomas Kirkbride, treasurer; Ruth Anderson, vice-president and secretary — sponsored its annual dance.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y, limited to forty members and led by Frank Drago, president; Carl Langely, vice-president; Robert Parker, secretary; and Richard Robash, treasurer, has had a full and interesting year. Among the activities were numerous successful record hops and an Eastern Massachusetts older boys' conference at Newton, at which Frank Drago was elected president.

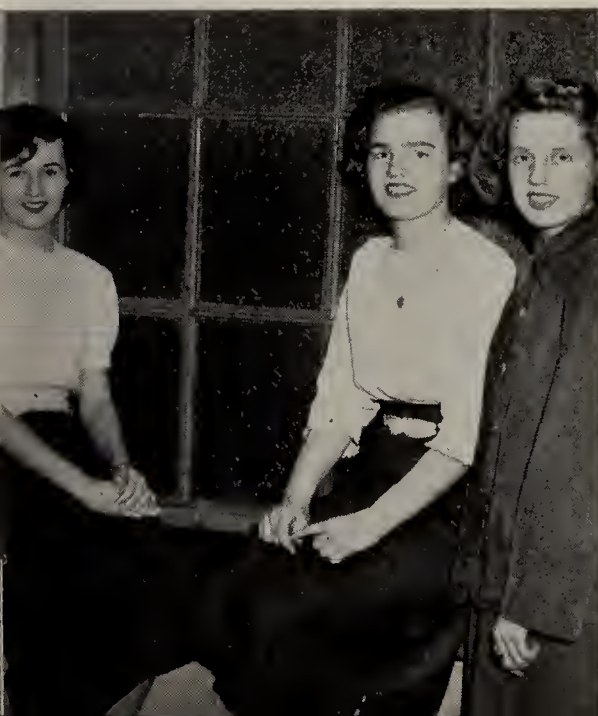

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION GROUP

During the past year a small group of seniors was pioneering in a new field of education at Q. H. S. Fifteen members in the class attended school in the morning and worked in the afternoon in prominent business concerns in Quincy Square, under the supervision of Miss Marguerite Erickson, teacher-coordinator. Selling techniques, personality, advertising, textiles, merchandising, display, and English were among the many subjects studied.

"ONE WORLD"

"A world united!" The primary purpose of "One World", a weekly publication put out by the Q. H. S. Problems of Democracy classes under the direction of Mr. Swartz, is to bring to the attention of the students the importance of practicing as well as preaching democracy. The editors, Paula Karlson and Raymond Dillon, along with the other students, have dedicated this publication to a better future.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Those blue-clad smiling girls you see in the lunchroom comprise the Cafeteria Staff. The group devotes its entire fifth period daily to serving the pupils. Under Miss Wilson's instruction, the staff works to keep QHS pupils well-nourished. Extra credit and money are truly earned by the staff.

LIBRARY STAFF

The wealth in the Q. H. S. library is made easily accessible by the Staff instructed by Miss Coulman. The Staff members enjoyed a varied social program, which contained a get-acquainted party for new students, a Christmas party, a St. Patrick's Day dance, the Mothers' tea, and a farewell supper for the seniors. Roberta Mitchell acted as president; Myrna Pellegrini, vice-president; Sylvia Parker, secretary; Paula Roberts, treasurer.

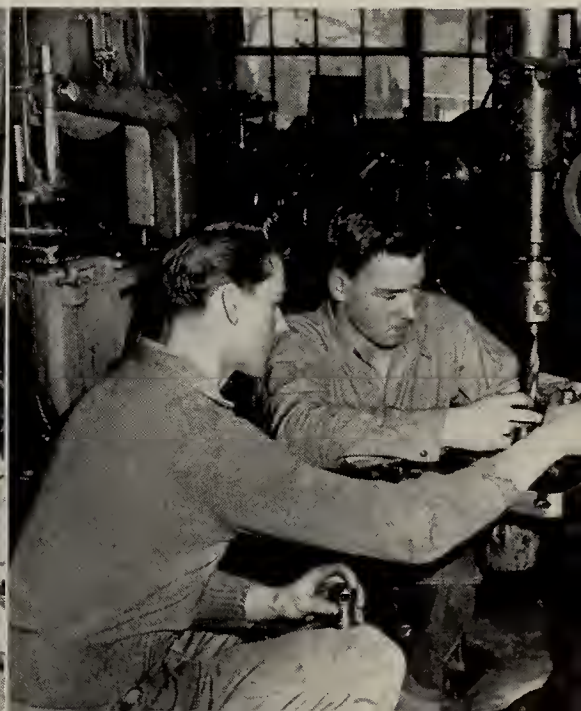

CHEERLEADERS

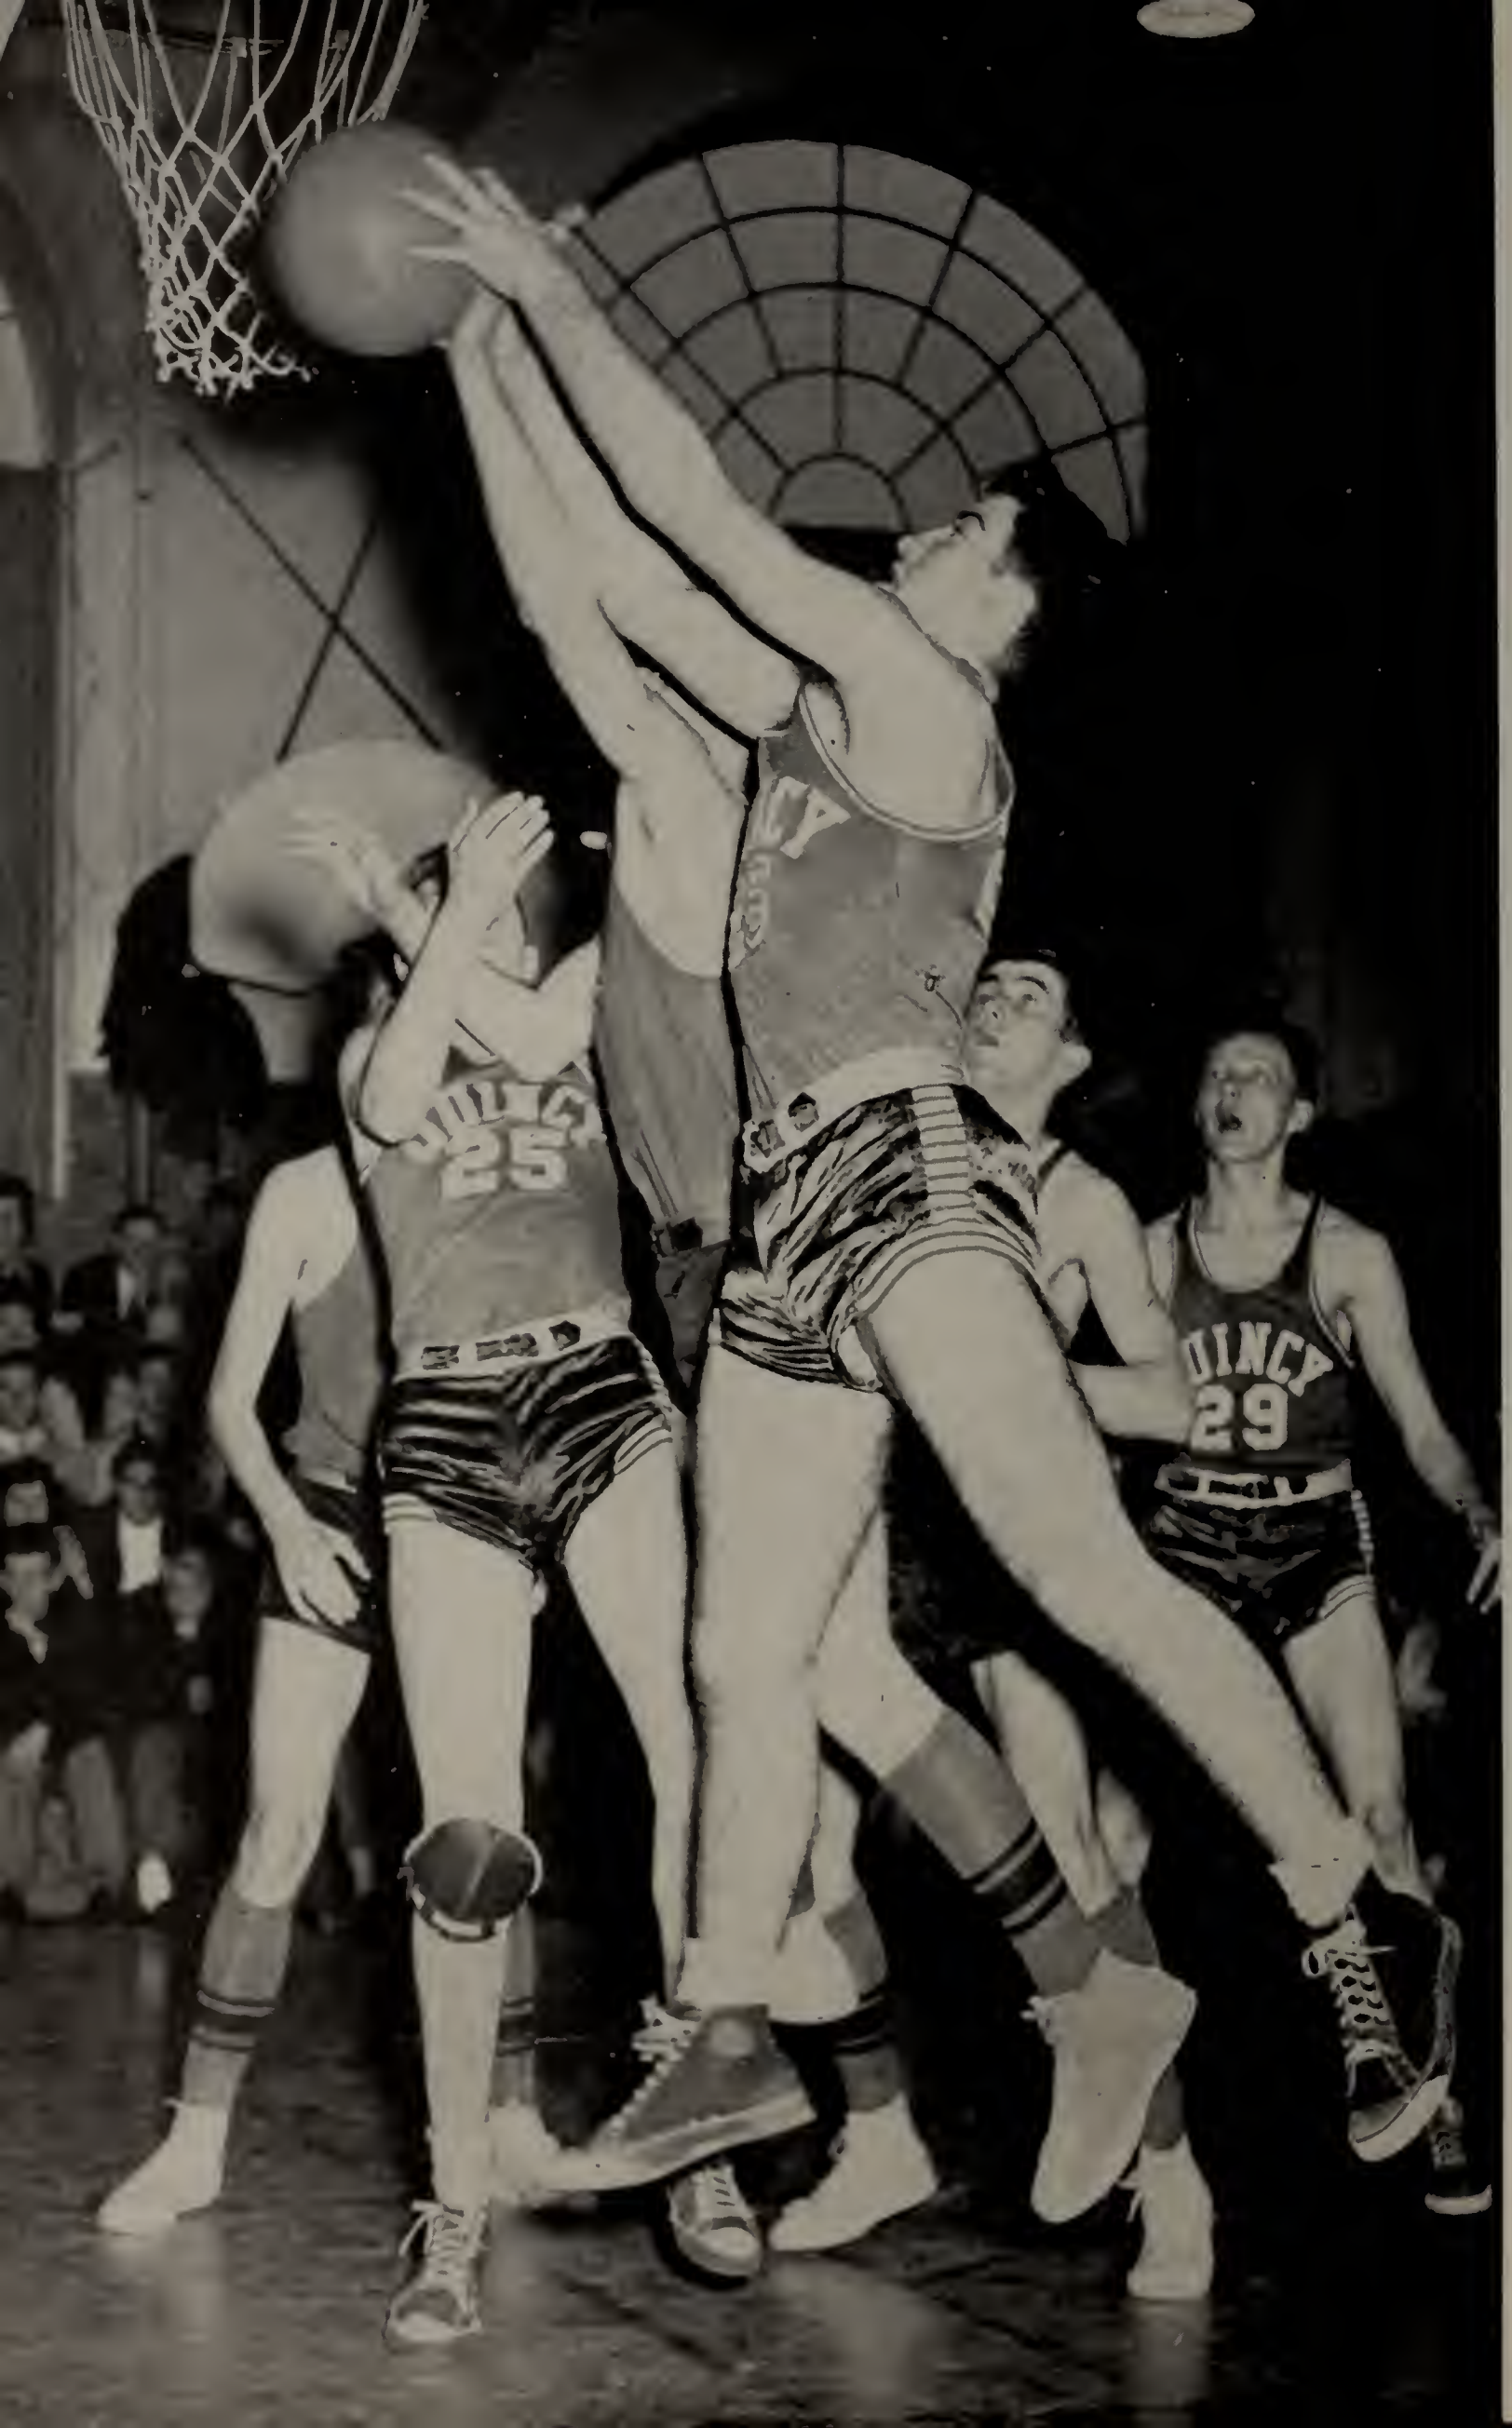

Twelve peppy females constitute the cheerleading squad, ably trained by Mrs. Ernestine Campbell and captained by Marion Bailer. The regular line-up includes eight seniors with four substitutes chosen for each game from a snappy set of girls who will next year be "regulars."

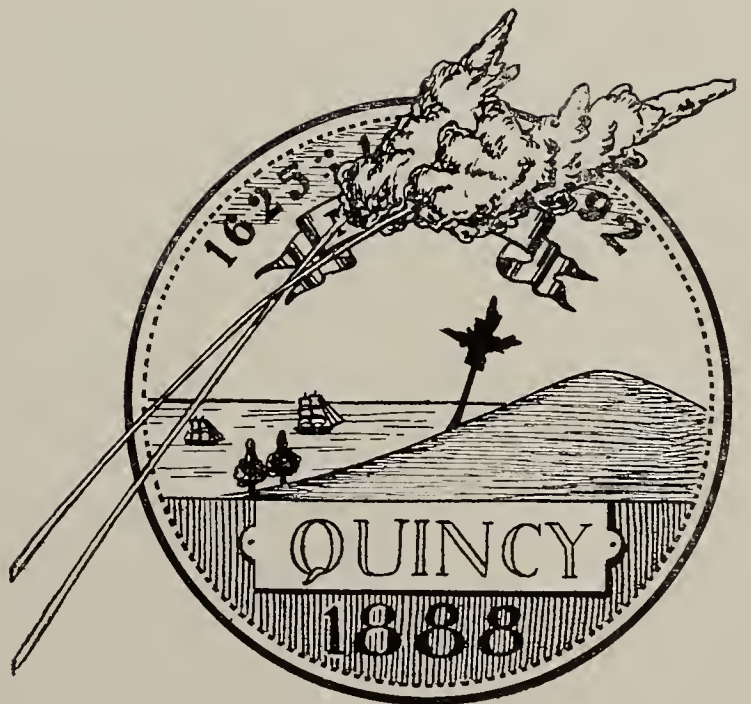

BAND

During the football season the Band was present at all of the games and did a wonderful job. The group was in the State Festival at New Bedford, the Instrumental Demonstration in October, and played at the three Junior High Schools. The officers are David Taylor, president; Carmine Pizzi, vice-president; Richard Booth, secretary; Gerald Rosenblatt, treasurer.

Sports

Quincy's record of seven wins and three losses looks, on paper, like just an average season; but when you figure that two of these losses were at the hands of teams bound for Southern Bowls, the record looks like something of which to be proud.

BROCKTON 14 — QUINCY 7

This game, if played later in the season, might have had a different result. Brockton was loaded with veterans while Quincy had but three previous starters: Granville, Sacchetti, and Lombardi. In the first period Quincy took the lead on a long run by Lombardi, but Brockton bounced back with two touchdowns to make it a 14-7 setback.

QUINCY 25 — BROOKLINE 19

Things looked black at the half with Quincy trailing; but, sparked by Granville's vicious tackling and Lombardi's ball-stealing act, Quincy got hot and rolled to an overwhelming victory.

QUINCY 14 — NEW BEDFORD 7

Here again Quincy made a slow start but later caught fire and drove to two touchdowns, which made the team look very promising on several occasions.

QUINCY 14 — REVERE 0

Here Quincy was impressive from the kick-off, outplaying Revere all the way with hard conservative football.

QUINCY 15 — WEYMOUTH 7

Weymouth, having recently been promoted to Class A with Quincy, was out far ahead; but Quincy's fast-charging line never gave the Weymouth speed demons a chance to get started.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES

BROCKTON 14	QUINCY 7

Football

QUINCY 14 — REVERE 0

Quincy was powerful from the kick-off, outplaying Revere all the way with good steady football.

QUINCY 40 — LEWISTON 13

Sweet revenge was Quincy's in this game. After a close, hard-fought battle in the first half, Quincy ran roughshod in the closing minutes, downing Lewiston with a deluge of touchdowns.

QUINCY 13 — NEWTON 12

A close one! Only Lombardi's educated toe on top of Sacchetti's touchdown saved Quincy from a 12-6 defeat.

QUINCY 12 — CHELSEA 7

Chelsea's Red Devils were changed into pink angels by Quincy's fighting spirit and homestretch drive.

LOWELL 28 — QUINCY 12

Tables turned! Quincy got a start on Roffo's safety, but Westland's long run fell through in the second half; Lowell scored easily on pass interceptions and poor punts.

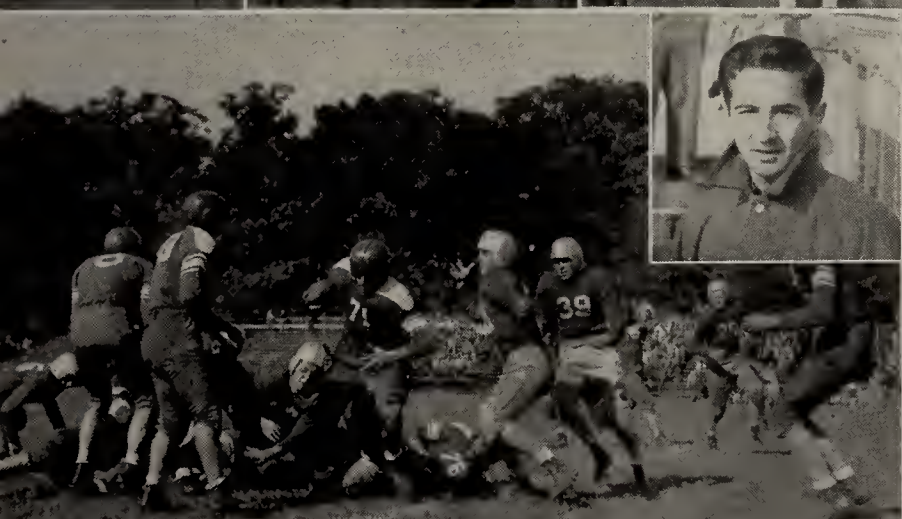

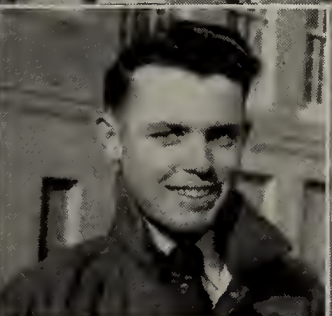

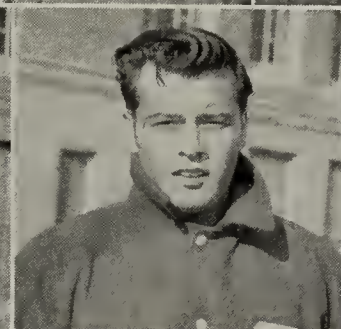

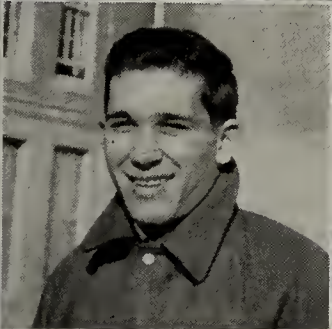

NORTH 8 — QUINCY 6

This was the heartbreaker! After Knuuti scored on a quarterback sneak, Quincy couldn't get back on the scoring wagon because of the cold slippery condition, while North was able to score on a safety and a touchdown by Santasuoso to take home a two-point victory.

In a post-season meeting of the lettermen — Conway, Roffo, Salvucci, Granville, Lee, Bando, Pizzi, Pappas, Petriello, Knuuti, Sacchetti, Lombardi, Westland, Hope, Edelston, Needel, Cuff, Robash, and Horn — Charles Pappas and Don Salvucci were elected co-captains for the preceding season.

On top of these honors, Pappas, Sacchetti, Lee, and Granville were elected for various New England All-Star teams.

As the "Golden Rod" went to press, Quincy's hoop forces were the proud possessors of a winning streak of thirteen straight. The boys did a marvelous job in copping the Greater Boston League Crown with only one year of circuit play behind them. Munroe MacLean's cagers entered the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament with confidence, and many of the Quincy followers felt that this was THE year. Let's have a look at the record.

QUINCY 29 — ALUMNI 22 . . . This game was hardly a contest to judge from, because the boys were playing against their old teammates. The '49 version of Quincy's hoop brigade had a difficult time getting started and, as a result, trailed by two or three points through the first three periods. Then came the awakening and the fourth period which gave the high school the victory.

QUINCY 50 — NORTH 32 . . . For two straight years the team from the north end of town had reigned as basketball king. This reign was brought to an abrupt end when the House of MacLean brought the Northerners to their knees with an eighteen-point drubbing. Although North was rumored to be weak, the victory was particularly significant, as it was gained on the Raiders' own floor.

QUINCY 24 — EVERETT 17 . . . This was the lowest scoring affair for both clubs in many years. Because of the conditions at Everett, the Quincy cagers played a defensive game and came out on top. This was the initial game in the Greater Boston League for the Blue and White this year, and they were understandably anxious to make a good impression. This they did. Ralph Beaton was high for Quincy with ten points. He also held Everett's famed Dick Lionette to three points.

QUINCY 28 — LOWELL 33 . . . Every team has an emotional letdown sometime, and the Blues just happened to draw a frown from Lady Luck on this particular outing. The Coddington gang just couldn't seem to hit the hoop at the Spindle City, while the boys from Lowell were hotter than the proverbial firecracker. The result was Quincy's first loss of the campaign.

QUINCY 50 — SOMERVILLE 51 . . . They say it's better to lose by twenty points than by one, but the Blue and White ran into just this situation at the South Shore court. The MacLean men were really up for this one and led almost all the way. It wasn't until the fourth period that the Blues saw their nine-point lead dwindle into nothingness. Bob Pettinelli, Walker Wheelock and Ralph Beaton led the Quincy attack, while Ronnie Perry, John Cronin and John Sussenburger paced Somerville. The Quincy cagers should never have lost this one, but there seem to be times when a ball club can play its heart out and still go down in defeat; this was one of those occasions.

QUINCY 65 — MEDFORD 29 . . . The Blues quickly rebounded from the two previous setbacks by drubbing the Medford Mustangs by 36 points. The Quincy lads jumped into a quick first-period lead and were never headed. This was their first victory at home for the Blue and White, the previous home contest having been dropped to Somerville.

QUINCY 61 — CHELSEA 50 . . . For the second consecutive week the Coddington crew hit half-a-hundred or better; this time Chelsea was on the short end of the score. The first half spelled victory for Quincy's cagers, as they poured twenty-five points into the record book in the second period and left the floor at half-time with a 40-21 lead. Chelsea, always a strong second-half club, lived up to its reputation and gave the Blues a real battle for the remainder of the contest; but the House of MacLean combined that terrific lead with smart ball handling to come out on top.

Basketball

QUINCY 48 — EVERETT 42 . . . Both clubs were noticeably nervous as the contest saw many balls lost and many fouls committed. There was good reason for this, as Everett had been swatting opponents like flies since its initial loss to Quincy. After the game got under way, however, the Blue and White aggregation's class was evident; and they soon piled up a twelve-point lead.

QUINCY 73 — REVERE 21 . . . This fracas saw the MacLean men run up the highest total compiled by a Quincy team in some ten years, as they buried Revere under a barrage of baskets. The second team saw a great deal of action, Skip Campbell and Dick Drake both nipping the nets for eleven points. Almost everyone got into the scoring column.

QUINCY 49 — MALDEN 39 . . . The Golden Tornado proved a good test for the Blue and White, as a return match with Somerville was next on the agenda. The contest was a close one all the way, with only two or three points separating the clubs until the final period. Bill Murphy, Malden's outstanding center, kept the boys from the other side of Boston in the game as he scored fourteen points. Pete Lura, Bob Pettinelli, and Walker Wheelock were top performers for QHS.

QUINCY 40 — SOMERVILLE 35 . . . This was the game that the House of MacLean had been waiting for. The boys knew that, if they were to be tournament contenders, they must beat Somerville. With this thought in mind, they took to the court with grim determination. Bob Pettinelli took charge of Mr. Ronald Perry and covered him as white covers rice. The loss was the first of the year for Vin Cronin's club and the first defeat a Somerville five had suffered on their own court in some three years. Every boy was outstanding in this fray — Walker Wheelock, Ralph Beaton, Al Pasquale, Pete Lura, and Bob Pettinelli. They played a terrific game and thoroughly deserved the win.

QUINCY 44 — MEDFORD 34 . . . Showing an expected letdown after their tremendous victory over Somerville, the boys from Quincy had to dig in and produce a third-period splurge to defeat a very much improved Medford quintet. High note of the game was the ability of Quincy's all-around play maker, Pete Lura, to guide the boys home as he himself tallied twenty-one points, the highest individual total of any Blue and White boy this year.

QUINCY 60 — LOWELL 43 . . . Once again it was a fourth-period drive that enabled the Quincy quintet to come out on the long end of the count. Lowell was surprisingly strong during the first three frames; but, as the contest grew older, Quincy's class became apparent and the boys poured it on to the extent of a seventeen-point win.

QUINCY 44 — CHELSEA 31 . . . Al Rubinstein was the fly in the soup as far as this contest was concerned. He parted the twines for fourteen points to keep him and his Chelsea cohorts in the picture. Bob Steele, who filled in for Ralph Beaton, was superb in this contest, collecting ten points in the first eight minutes of play and setting a foundation for the Blues to build upon. This they did, as they carried a twelve-point lead into the third period. They increased this lead by one point and quit for the evening with another victory under their belts.

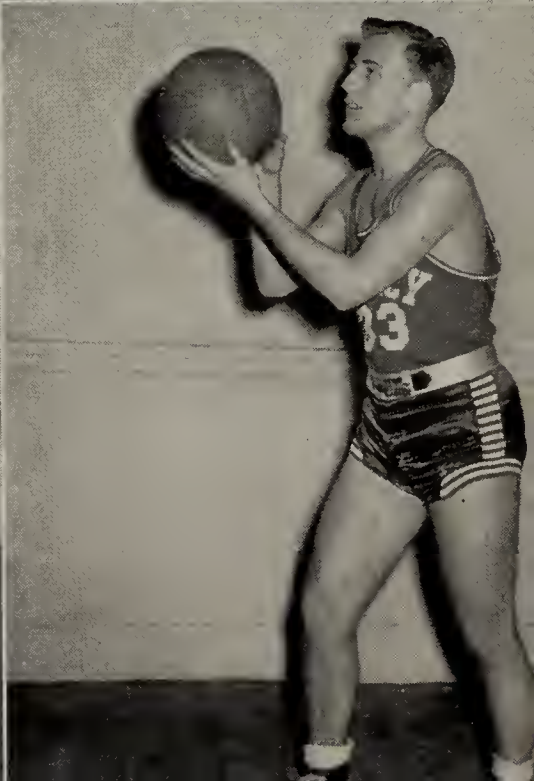

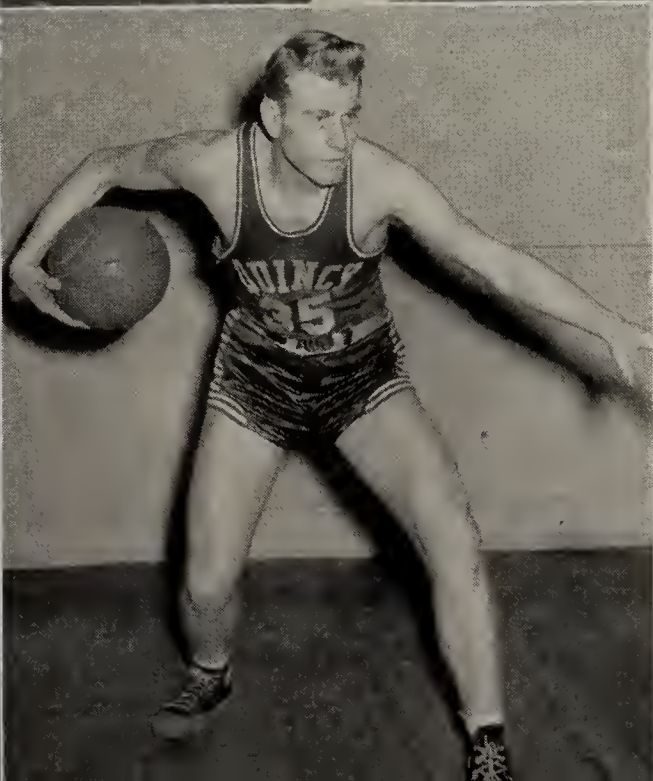

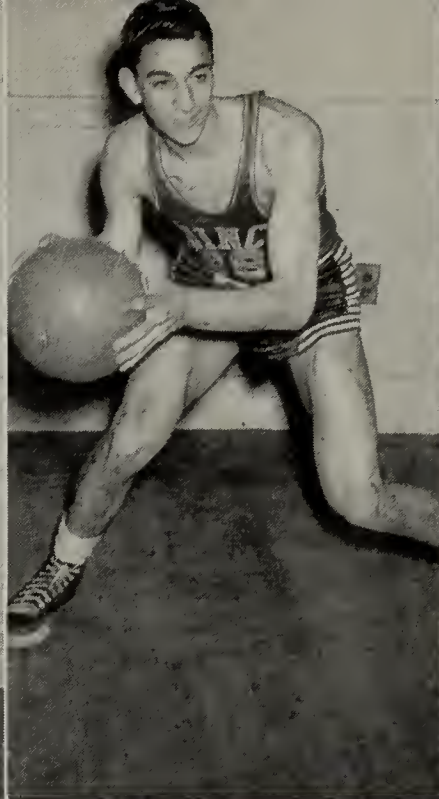

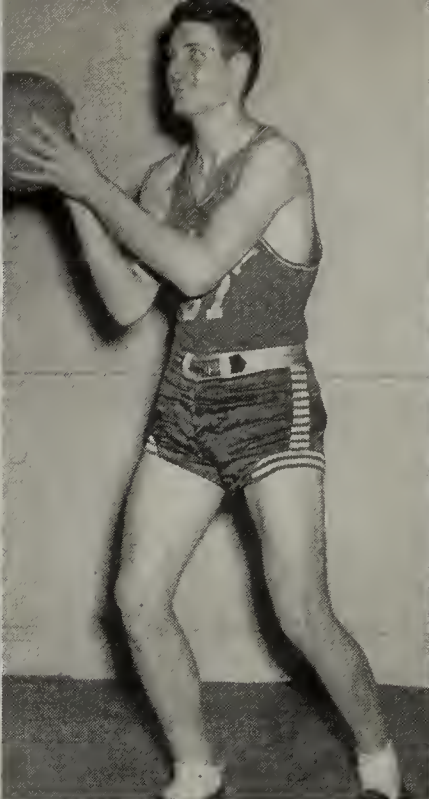

QUINCY 29 — MALDEN 23 . . . The Blue and White quintet journeyed to Malden with one thought in mind — "If we win this one, they CAN'T keep us out of the tournament!" The spacious Malden boards, coupled with the Blues' tournament dreams, produced a sloppy brand of basketball for the first three stanzas. The 13-9 half-time score certainly goes to prove that it was a defensive battle. The fourth period brought a change in the state of affairs, however, as the Granite town gang rallied from a three-point deficit to pull away with a burst of speed and win by six points.

QUINCY 75 — REVERE 22 . . . Going into this contest everyone knew that the Beach City five had about as much chance of surviving as a cornfield in a stone quarry. These sad thoughts were justified as the Coddington Street crew exploded like an A-bomb for the highest score ever compiled by a Blue hoop force. Everyone got into the act, with Gus Lawrence, Pete Lura, and Bob Steele hitting double figures.

QUINCY 46 — BROCKTON 41 . . . The traditional Washington's Birthday fray proved to be more of a battle than was anticipated. The Shoe City quintet trailed by thirteen big points at one time, only to rally and pull within three of the Blues. Quincy put the game in the bag with only seconds remaining. This marked the first victory over Brockton since the '45 tournament team put the skids under the Red and Black in 1945.

QUINCY 38 — NORTH 35 . . . The Blues got a scare from the North aggregation as they had to go all out to stop the Red Raiders' bid for an upset. Al Pasquale gave the fans a real show as he personally accounted for the first nine points scored by Quincy. Skip Campbell was another sparkling performer, who used his height in grabbing rebounds. He netted ten. Quincy was under pressure for three reasons, which might account for their below-par performance: they had their winning streak to protect; they were playing against a much improved ball club; their tournament opponent, Attleboro, was in the stands watching Quincy's every move. Quincy came out on top; that's what counts!

CROSS COUNTRY

Although Quincy's Cross Country crew didn't fare too well last fall, the boys were in there plugging every minute. Outstanding for the Blue and White aggregation were the Hill brothers — Mal and George, Russ Honkenon, and Doug Black. The team held meets with North Quincy, Milton, Brockton, Weymouth, and participated in the South Shore meet and the State meet. The club placed sixth in the South Shore meet and eighth in the State meet.

Mr. Wise had only one returning letterman this year, but several boys that showed promise last season will be back for another crack at it. These fellows should form the nucleus of what it is hoped will turn out to be a first-rate organization.

HOCKEY

When a school puts its first hockey team in years on the ice, it doesn't expect the team to win many games, let alone a championship. Quincy isn't a school to follow the athletic tradition, for she finished her season losing but two games and winning the South Shore Championship. After winning her first two games with Milton and Hingham, Quincy lost to the highly-touted Brockton by one goal, 4-3. After that it was clear sailing, and Quincy mopped up the ice with the opposition until the last game when North eked out a 1-0 upset. Composing this high-scoring sextet were Jack Belanger, Frannie Pineau, and Joe Hughes in the forward wall; the two football stars, Rudy Knuuti and Richie Conway at the defense positions; and Jackie Costello in the crease. The Wong boys — Pete and Hymie — and Don Salvucci composed the second line; Ted Rouilliard, Bill Smith, and Jack Burke, the third. Everett Whitney was the replacement goalie, while Bob Smith took up the place in the defense drives. All in all, when you figure that this first-year team took the whole league over the hurdles to the tune of seven wins, two losses, and one tie, it leaves little to be desired.

BASEBALL

Quincy's diamond forces did fairly well last season, considering that it was their first in Greater Boston League competition. The club had a 7-7 record in the league, while the only two games played outside the circuit were won handily.

The starting lineup included Pudge Kennedy, Charlie Sacchetti, and Al Halloran — in left, center, and right fields; Don Babbitt at first; Gerry Panerelli at second; Jim Gambino at short; Joe Hughes at third; Jack McDermott behind the plate; and Lou Marini, Charlie Adams, Al Halloran, and Don Lundin taking turns on the mound.

Lou Marini and Jack McDermott comprised one of the best batteries in the league; and the return of these two, together with Joe Hughes, Fran Pineau, Dick Lints, Charlie Adams, Henry Salvaggi, Jim Sullivan, Jim Gosselin, Dick Salvaggio, Paul Lanstrom, and Charlie Sacchetti, should form the nucleus of a potent ball club for the spring season of 1949.

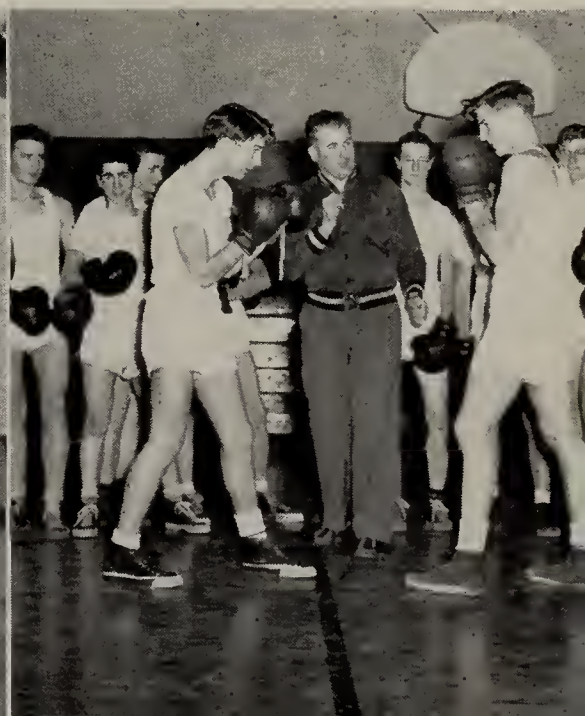

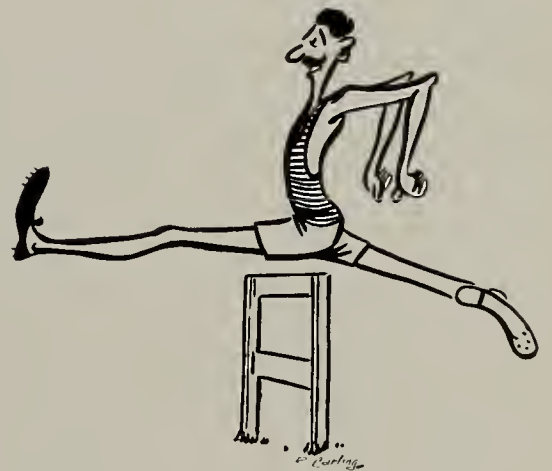

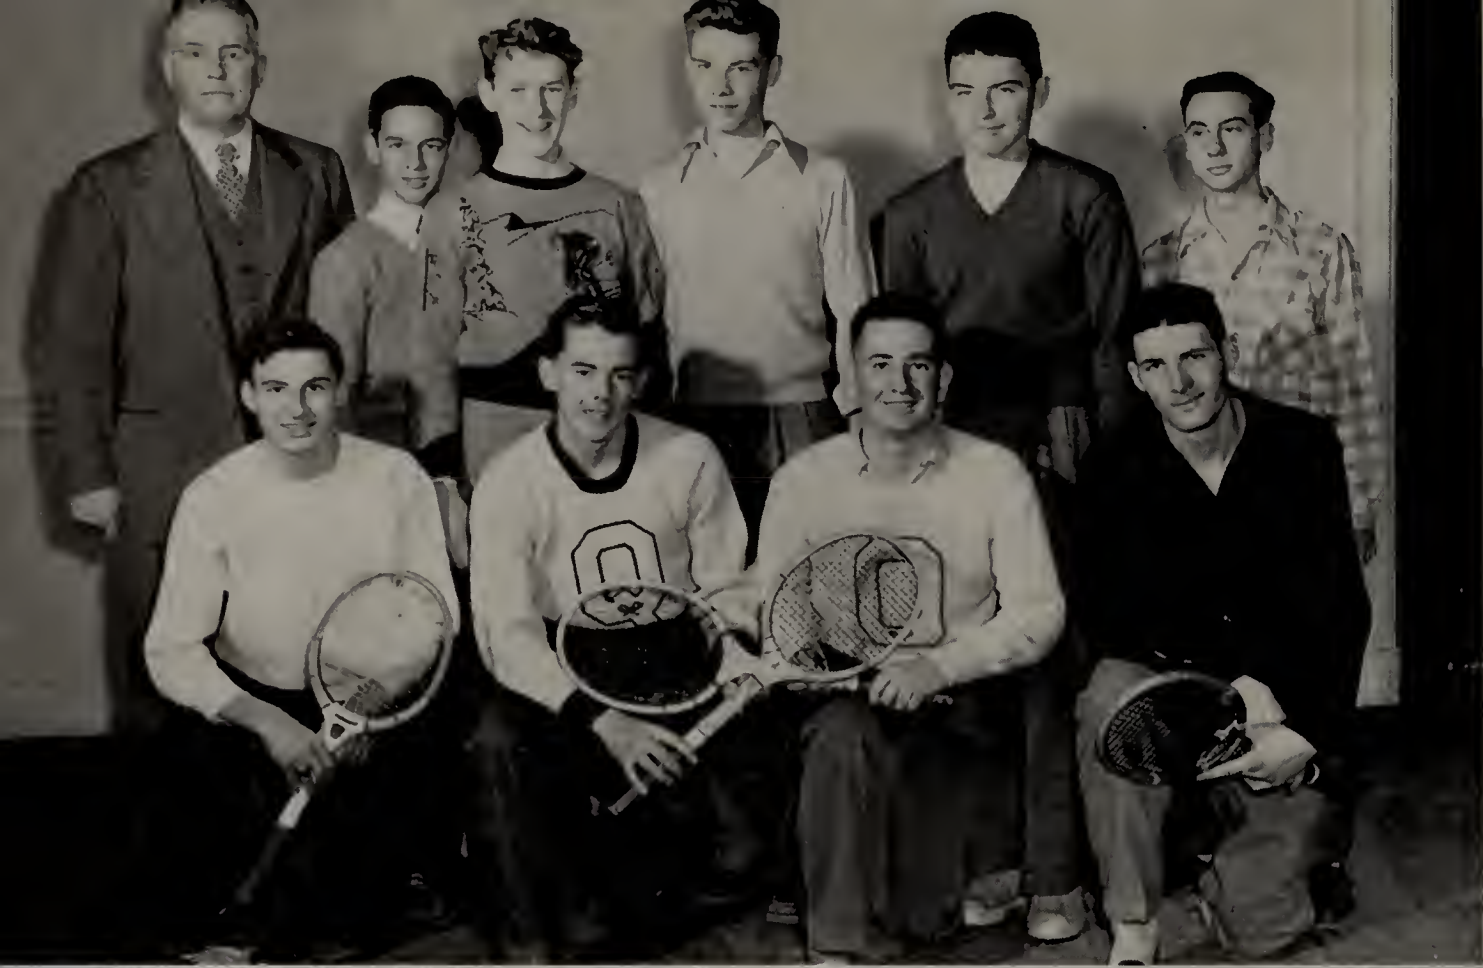

TRACK

Prospects are for a big year in track this spring, as Coach MacLean will have an abundance of returning Mercuries. In the field events he will have William DeCoste, who led the South Shore in pole vaulting last year; Robert Cline, a high-jumper, who has placed high in several state meets, and Don Pizzi, Dick Petriello, and Cosmo Sansone, who all have the makings of shot-putters.

The long distance seems, at this writing, to be a little weak; but the short distances are down pat with Dave Taylor, Richie Conway, Sonny Westland, Leo Andronica, and Dick Kressler taking the bulk of the load there as well as on what should be an excellent relay team.

All in all, the above represents enough points to make a good showing in every track meet.

TENNIS

If, in '48, Mr. Deane seemed a bit pessimistic concerning the chances of the Blue and White tennis team, he was justified in this outlook, for Quincy's schedule was no bed of roses. It included such outfits as Newton, always a contender for state laurels, and the State Champs themselves, Winchester, whose defeats in recent years could easily be counted on the fingers of one hand. Then there was the previous record, which saw the QHS boys romp through ten consecutive contests without a setback, and handily claim the South Shore Championship.

With these and many other pleasant thoughts stored in the backs of their minds, the club set out on what proved to be one of the most successful seasons that the Quincy netmen have ever experienced.

The Blue crew took the measure of Hingham twice, by scores of 5-1 and 4½-1½; of North two times, both by scores of 6-0. Braintree also fell before the swinging racquets of the Deane men, to the tunes of 5-1 and 5-0.

Brockton gained its first decision over a Granite City aggregation in some three years by a 3-2 count, but only after the Blues had belted the Red and Black, 5-1.

Quincy's eighth win was acquired at the hands of Thayer Academy, 5-1. Boston College High really slugged it out with the Blues; and when the smoke had cleared, the scorekeeper claimed that it was a draw, 4-4.

The boys who claimed the Faxon Courts as their home traveled 'way out to Winchester only to lose to a strictly superior foe, 7-0.

The final contest on the Quincy schedule, Newton, was rained out. The Blue netmen wound up with a record of eight wins, two losses, and one tie, which is good enough in any league. The boys won the South Shore Tournament for the third straight year, Vaughn Sarkisian defeating Paul Flynn in the final round. Both boys played brilliantly for Quincy throughout the season.

The hopes of Quincy's success in the 1949 tennis world will rest upon the shoulders of the only two returning lettermen, Dan Donaher and Bob Keefe. These stars will form the nucleus of what the school hopes will be another championship club. Here's wishing them luck!

GOLF

Tee off! In spring an aspiring group of golfers, together with their sponsor, Mr. Burnham, headed for the links. Having been coached by the professionals, Jack Igoe and Dick Lincoln, they were indeed anxious to show off their newly-acquired skill.

BADMINTON

"Fast and fascinating" is the way to describe a sport like badminton. This club met once a week in the Quincy High gymnasium, under the direction of Nelson Cochrane.

JUNIOR - SENIOR BOWLING

Stri-i-ke! No, gold hasn't been discovered — it's just another ten points for a lucky bowler. They are not so few either, according to the scores that have been made as the Juniors and Seniors have taken over the alleys every Wednesday and Thursday. Leading the rest of the gals are the two "Bowlerettes" teams, the "Bowling Belles", and the "Bowling Pins."

SOPHOMORE BOWLING

With the "Starettes", "Gutter Gals", and "Bobby Soxers" in the lead, the sophomore girls made the alleys tremble as they sent the balls spinning for a strike every Tuesday afternoon at the "Y". The officers were Roma Byrne, president; Beverly Arthur, scribe; and Jean Albro, treasurer.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

"Swish! It's a basket! That puts the seniors ahead 32 to 31!" Amid the clamor of the eager participants, many exciting Tuesday afternoons were spent in the Q.H.S. gym refereeing, coaching, scoring, and timing the girls' basketball games. Assisted by Miss Sullivan, many girls spent an enjoyable season.

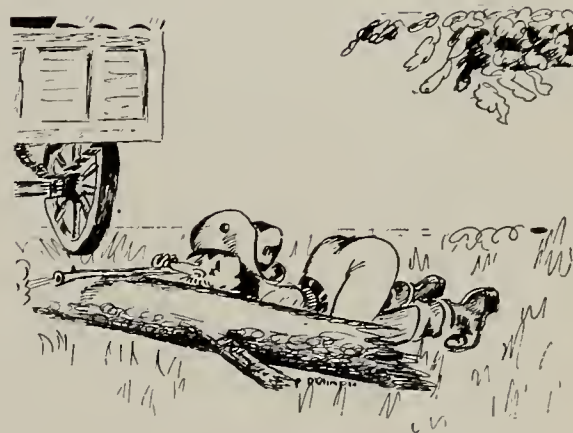

SWIMMING CLUB

"Grab your suits, girls, and let's go!" Thus the Tuesday afternoon jaunt to the "Y" pool was begun. "Just-for-fun" races were held; strokes were learned; and a good time was had by all the Quincy High mermaids. The officers were Charlotte Burke and Janet Donovan.

RIFLE CLUB

With Bill Smith as president, Robert Person as vice-president, Robert Ford as secretary, and William Schempers as treasurer, this year's Rifle Club has been a success. Affiliated with the National Rifle Association, the Club, with the Rifle Team selected from club members, fired many matches.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Representing the Junior Class are four outstanding pupils. Robert Person, the president, is ably assisted by Holly Burgess as vice-president, Carol Salmi as secretary, and Aldo Lombardi as Treasurer.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

The Sophomore Class expressed its high opinion of four members by electing them as the officers of the Class of 1951. Voted into office were Theodore Brogioli as president; Priscilla Hatch, vice-president; Nancy Sealund, secretary; and Walker Wheelock, treasurer.

CLASS WILL

Be it Remembered that We, the Quincy High School Class of the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Nine of Quincy, Norfolk County, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sickly mind and memory, but realizing rather feebly the uncertainty of this life, do make this our First Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time heretofore made.

After the payment of our extravagant debts and meagre graduation charges, we bequeath and devise as follows:

- To Mr. Wilson — A left-over 49'er.
- To Mr. Anderson — Mouse traps for all the exits.
- To Miss Turner — A bouquet of "Golden Rods."
- To Miss Goudey — A longer English period so that she won't have to talk so quickly.
- To Mrs. Harrington — A record of the stupefying amounts of food consumed in her classes.
- To Mr. Briggs — A grin.
- To Mr. Rayner — A rat.
- To Mr. Riccio — A beautiful, blonde secretary for night school.
- To Mr. Hutchinson — A hot rock.
- To Alan Craigue — A spelling book.
- To the Twins — Graduation Medals of Honor for securing class rings.
- To Charles Pappas — Ten free lessons at Arthur Murray's.
- To Ralph Beaton — A goatee to match his moustache.
- To Jean Zimmerman — A red rose from an unknown admirer.
- To Forbes Morrison — A bag of cold air to neutralize him.
- To Ann Fitzgerald and Patricia Ford — Signs to tell them apart.
- To Gerard Langelier — The Radio Corporation of America.
- To Irene Lagodimos — A look of awe for her Greek.
- To Dick Cuff — A couple of million to back him in the advertising business.
- To Martha Casta — Another handsome caballero.
- To Connie Lawley — A bunny to keep the other one company.
- To Barbara Willoughby — A day in school.
- To the Class of '50 — Our rings — we never had much time to wear them.
- To the Class of '51 — A plot of grass all their own to walk upon.
- To the Class of '52 — A match — the purpose is obvious.

We nominate and appoint Robert Person, President of the Class of 1950, to be the sole executor of this will.

In Testimony Whereof, we hereunto set our-so-tired-from-homework hands and in the so-called presence of three witnesses declare this to be our last will, this Eleventh Day of June, in the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Nine.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 4, 1946, several hundred sophomores, "small and scared-looking," to quote one of that year's newly-risen seniors, wandered through the corridors of Quincy High School.

With the autumn of 1947 the same group returned, exclaiming, "Aren't the sophomores little this year!" In September, 1948, the Forty-Niners beamed with delight at the realization that they were the object of the sophomores' admiring stares.

But much happened meanwhile. The Forty-Niners quickly adjusted themselves to the new building and hastened to make themselves known, both singly and in groups. Charles Pappas stood out as the first and last scorer of the football season, and as Class President. Marion Bailer, Joan Andre, and Richard Lints were elected as the other class officers. Many others took active part in the various extra-curricular groups.

The year sped quickly by and June arrived, sending the pupils on their many ways

Soon, however, September beckoned the class back once more. To get things off to a good start, the Student Council sponsored a dance, "Indian Summer"; and, with Jimmy Rago's orchestra providing the music, the students danced to the strains of "The Things We Did Last Summer."

Of course, while outside activities played a large part in school life, studies, of necessity, occupied a major role. The industrious, scholarly Forty-Niners were still waging their constant "Battle of The Books"; they still trudged or bounced (as the case might be) home each ten weeks with small, deceptively innocent-looking brown envelopes. Yet there are so many more interesting things to discuss — one after another came — the Thanksgiving game (which, of course, Quincy won); the ill-fated expedition to see the Freedom Train, on which some six persistent pupils out of the four Elk-sponsored busloads actually went through the train; the Girls' Club Variety Show, in which the Kilbourne twins and Martha Casta represented '49.

And then there were the days when Quincy High looked like a Dali nightmare — the more conscientious students hastened to assure startled passers-by that the horrors were products of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y initiations.

All things must come to an end, and once more June arrived to put the finishing touches on a few more pages of Quincy High history.

1948-49 was a year of innovations for Q.H.S. It became one of the first high schools in the country to own a television set; the gym teachers breathed a sigh of relief on seeing the new sound-proof gymnasium doors; and the Pony Express, the Junior Achievement newspaper, became a new institution (blue ink and all), readily accepted by the pupils who tried to look nonchalant while eagerly scanning the columns in search of their names.

Sports did not suffer in the last high school year of the Forty-Niners, for, besides having a better-than-average football team, the class could boast of a league-leading hockey and an Eastern Massachusetts Tourney basketball team. Nor was the year poor in social events. The Girls' Club sponsored "Winter Whirl". The Winter Sports Club's dance and the colorful Mardi-Gras were outstanding occasions. These, however, were all preludes to what is the undergraduate's fond dream, and the graduate's cherished memory — the Senior Prom. For on May 27, the Forty-Niners reached the climax of their social pleasures as they danced to the music of Hal Reeves' Orchestra.

So, quickly, the year grew to a close! In the preoccupation of getting their rings, exchanging their pictures, and carrying out the class business, the Forty-Niners could hardly realize that in a few short weeks they would be starting a new era in their lives, leaving Quincy High School behind them as a cherished memory, and facing wider horizons.

Thus it was, however, that in early June, 1949, Quincy's Forty-Niners, over four hundred strong, gathered in the Stadium for Graduation Exercises. And thus it was that the Forty-Niners parted and went their separate ways.

RELIABLE PRESCRIPTIONS

We are proud of the fact that this is a Prescription pharmacy. In this establishment, a Doctor's directive has the highest priority. Our shelves are stocked with prescription ingredients from all over the world — rare items that only our large volume could maintain in fresh, potent condition. Thus we can, and do, fill every prescription precisely as the Doctor directed.

Why not bring that very next prescription here?
